PROFESSOR JOHN V. WATKINS TO SPEAK

The members of the American Hibiscus Society are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity to hear Professor John V. Watkins give an illustrated talk entitled "Botanic Gardens in Tropical America." His talk will be on Saturday afternoon, June 22nd, at the Annual Membership Meeting at Reddington Beach.

Professor Watkins is Professor Emeritus at the University of Florida where he has taught courses in plant propagation, nursery operations, and landscape horticulture for many years. He is the author of A.B.C. of Orchid Growing, Gardens of the Antilles and Your Guide To Florida Landscape Plants, as well as coauthor of 500 Answers to Your Florida Garden Questions, and Your Florida Garden. He has also published numerous bulletins and magazine articles.

Be sure to make plans to hear Professor Watkins this June.

-o0o-

NOTHING ABOUT HIBISCUS

The following article has nothing to do with our beloved hibiscus. Since it is about show time and most of us will be driving the family auto to and fro to get to the shows, we thought some statistics about auto accidents might cause some of our members to be a little more careful. We can't afford to lose any of you.

-o0o-

Used car dealer, driving up a hill: "This is the opportunity of a lifetime."
Customer: "Yes, I can hear it knocking."